

Members are understandably concerned about the impact that coronavirus (COVID-19) might have on the health of their clients and themselves, as well as their practice.

We urge members to follow the latest information and advice issued by the UK government and other relevant authorities, which is being updated on a regular basis.

We have put together a suggested letter/e-mail template to send to your clients if you so wish. This can be edited as appropriate.

Wishing you continued good health at this difficult time.

13th March 2020